

PRESBYTERIANS APPROVE BUILDING PROGRAM

HULL ASSAILS WAR DOCTRINE, RULE OF FORCE

Insists America Will Continue Its Quest For Peace

BUT, AT SAME TIME, WILL ARM ITSELF

Declares U. S. Will Continue to Protect Its Rights Abroad

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 17.—Secretary of State Hull, declaring America must hold to its rights in the quest for world peace, laid down today a policy of arming for protection against "international lawlessness."
"It is my considered judgment that in the present state of world affairs, to do less than is now proposed would lay our country open to unpredictable hazards," he said, referring to the naval expansion program.

Touches All Aspects
Hull treated every aspect of the world situation in an address before the National Press club. His speech went over an international radio hookup.
"The momentous question," he said, "is whether the doctrine of force shall become enthroned once more and bring in its wake inexorable international anarchy and a plunge into barbarism."
The cabinet officer, as America's chief foreign minister, expounded a policy of peace, no alliances, collaboration with peaceful nations, military preparation, and opposition to the "seclusionist viewpoint."
"We may seek to withdraw from participation in world affairs," he said, "but we cannot thereby withdraw from the world itself. Isolation is not a means to security; it is a fruitful source of insecurity."
Hull expressed "our deep concern over the rising tide of lawlessness, the growing disregard of treaties, the increasing reversion to the use of force, and the numerous other ominous tendencies which are bringing in the sphere of international relations."

Mentions No Names
He did not refer to any nation by name, but his implication with regard to legal recognition of Austria's absorption by Germany and Japan's expansion in China was clear to his listeners when he said: "To waive rights and to permit interests to lapse in the face of their actual or threatened violation and thereby to abandon obligations—in any important area of the world, can serve only to encourage..."

Pleads Not Guilty To Assault Charge

William Thomas Blackburn, 21, arrested by police on a charge of assault with intent to kill, filed by his wife, pleaded not guilty when given a hearing before Mayor George Harroff this morning and was bound over to the grand jury. Bond was fixed at $1,000.
Blackburn, picked up by Canton police at the home of his mother in Canton, was returned to Salem last night by Chief Ralph Skoffor. The alleged assault occurred March 5, according to police.

Nazi Police Launch Drive Against Clerical Quarters

Fey Kills Self
Mentions No Names, But Warns Immediate Clean-Up Is Due

Maj. Emil Fey

(By Associated Press)
VIENNA, March 17.—Henrich Himmler, chief of all Germany's police, today ordered the arrest of all persons belonging to "certain clerical quarters," who he said were spreading "false rumors about new National Socialist Austria."
The order mentions no names, but it warned an immediate clean-up was in store for these "clericals." Their object, he said, was "not only to sow unrest within, but also to disturb the Reich's good foreign relations."

He blamed the "clericals" for starting a rumor Italian Premier Mussolini had given back to Germany the South Tyrol, formerly a part of Austria.
Communists in Nazi uniforms officially were charged with illegal house searching and seizures of property and persons.
The public also was warned against a wave of "money collecting" ostensibly for party purposes.
A notice that all Free Mason lodges were watched and that no one was permitted to enter completed the day's warnings. The lodges, the notice said, later will be cleaned out and closed for good.

Joseph Buerkel, former commissioner of the German Saar, started his plebiscite campaign today with an appeal for a unanimous "yes" vote on April 10 to approve the Austro-German union.

Simultaneously the Reich war flag was raised ceremoniously over the old Austrian war office, in the presence of Col. Gen. Von Bock of the eighth army corps, which includes Austria.

Austrians were told of further benefits they may expect from union with Germany. The lower Austrian provincial government announced a large highway building program to relieve unemployment in that section, while Nazi party headquarters at Munich announced allotment of a million marks ($400,000) for distribution among Austria's needy.

Jewish stores were placarded. Trucks drove up to them and carted away clothes, perfume, shoes and other goods.

2 ARE INJURED BY AUTOS HERE

Freda Fritzman, Arch st., Is Knocked Down; Child, 2, Is Hurt In Collision

Traffic accidents accounted for injuries to two persons here Wednesday evening.
Freda Fritzman of Arch st. was treated at the Central Clinic for bruises and shock after an automobile driven by Merle Coy of 239 S. Broadway, struck and knocked her down on Newgarden ave., near the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

The accident occurred at 7:15 when Miss Fritzman stepped out onto the street to walk around some water which covered the sidewalk at that point, police said.

Patricia Lee Horstman, aged about 12, was the only one injured when an unidentified car struck her father's automobile on Blackburn hill, one mile west of the city on Route 62, at 6:45 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horstman of 404 Fair ave., the parents were unhurt. The baby was treated at the Central Clinic for a laceration on her forehead. Horstman was driving east at the time of the crash, state highway patrolmen said.

Police reported that machines driven by Dave Hart and Wilbur Stallsmith, both of Perry st., collided at the intersection of Perry and S. Lundy ave. at 6:15 p. m. yesterday.

HITLER HALTS TOUR, DIRECTS EYES TO SPAIN

Calls Reichstag to Meet Friday To Hear "A Declaration"

SPANISH EVENTS TO BE EMPHASIZED

No Immediate Crisis In Poland-Lithuania Situation Expected

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, March 17.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler, curtailing his triumphant tour of Naziified Austria because of increasing gravity of affairs elsewhere in Europe, may give to the world tomorrow an important announcement on Spain and her long and bitter civil war.
Th. Fuehrer summoned the Reichstag to meet Friday to hear "a declaration," and the marked emphasis placed on Spanish events by government spokesmen indicated that Spain might be an important subject of that declaration.

No one, as usual, professed to know exactly what Hitler, Europe's man of surprises, had in mind.

"Story Is In Spain"
But, officials said, there was not in prospect any critical development in the Lithuanian-Polish crisis, at Germany's back door, or elsewhere.

"The story is in Spain, not in northern Europe," the foreign office spokesman said.

"Even Vienna has practically ceased to interest statesmen. The Austrian Anschluss union with Germany is a closed chapter."

(French secret service agents have reported large numbers of both German and Italian troops with the Spanish insurgent army, in numbers far greater than needed if they intended only to carry on the Spanish war.)

Fuehrer Hitler returned to Berlin yesterday from his triumphant visit to Naziified Vienna, met by an honor guard of infantry and cheered by Berlin crowds enjoying a specially proclaimed holiday.

Speaking briefly from the chancellery balcony, at the insistence of the throng, he said: "You can readily imagine how happy I feel to see all Germanland solidly behind me."

Will Review Events
It was thought likely his Reichstag message Friday would include an elaboration of the past month's events, which began with the Berchtesgaden meeting of Hitler and Austria's Schuschnigg Feb. 12.

RAIL CROSSING PLANS DEBATED

P. R. R. to Cooperate In Establishing Protection Here

Pennsylvania railroad officials, at a conference here Wednesday afternoon with Mayor George Harroff, Safety Director C. E. Donahay and members of city council's safety committee, indicated they will abide by the state utilities commission's recommendation of 24-hour protection at the Wilson st. and W. Pershing st. grade crossings.

The railroad men, who met with the solons at city hall for an hour and a half, were headed by Division Engineer Vanding of Pittsburgh. R. G. Davis of Alliance, district supervisor for the railroad, also was in the party.

Just what course of action the railroad will take in providing the crossings with more adequate protection was not revealed, but Vanding announced that complete plans would be drafted and formally presented to city council for approval, probably at the next meeting April 5.

The representatives of the railroad during the discussion hinted at the possibility of closing Mill st., to eliminate the crossing there. The city officials quickly killed this thought in the minds of the visitors.

Whatever type of protection the public carrier may place at the Wilson and W. Pershing st. crossings, it was indicated that if the program proves satisfactory, it may be applied to other crossings in the city.

Unable to hold out against the insurgents led by Gen. Francisco Franco, the Spanish Loyalist government, through Premier Juan Negrin, asks France for aid. Negrin flew to Paris to plead for 200 planes and munitions to resist the insurgent drive, now threatening Barcelona, the Loyalist capital. Large reinforcements of Italian troops are said to have made Franco's drive possible.

FRANCE OPENS DEFENSE DRIVE

Cabinet authorizes Extraordinary Armament Expenditures

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, March 17.—The French cabinet authorized extraordinary armament expenditures of 4,465,000,000 francs (about $134,000,000) today and announced it would ask the chamber of deputies immediately to open exceptional national defense credits in view of Europe's war threats.

The ministers said an order to speed up raising of rearmament funds was authorized at today's meeting and that the money would be drawn from the regular 1938 budget without waiting to float a loan.

Charles Spinasse, minister of the budget, said he would submit a bill to the chamber carrying out the proposals of the previous Chamberlain ministry—the expenditure of about $300,000,000 over a five-year period, mostly for fighting ships and airplanes.

Armaments expenditures contemplated under the 1938 budget up to now total about $778,362,000.

The foreign office said the French and British ambassadors at Warsaw had asked Poland to submit her dispute with Lithuania to negotiation rather than endanger European peace by methods of force.

Foreign office spokesmen said they were confident the dispute over a border clash and a Polish demand that estranged Lithuania establish normal diplomatic relations—eventually would be settled by negotiation. They said neighboring Estonia or Latvia probably would act as intermediary.

The cabinet ministers issued a statement declaring France would spare no effort to preserve Europe's peace. But, they warned, she will go to any necessary length to hold secure her frontiers and her empire sea routes in the Mediterranean.

Summit St. Water Line Job Started

City Engineer P. S. Barkhoff disclosed today that work had been started on the Summit st. water line project.

LET CONTRACTS IN NEAR FUTURE ON $80,000 JOB

Committee Authorized to Act At Congregational Meeting

MAIN AUDITORIUM TO BE REMODELED

Educational Building To Replace Present Parish House

R. S. McCulloch, chairman of the Presbyterian church building committee, today announced that contracts for the construction of a new church plant, calling for an expenditure of $80,000, will be let probably April 1.

The committee was formally authorized to proceed with the project for the remodeling of a special meeting last night in the church after V. R. Martin, trustee, presented a complete outline of the program.

It is hoped that work will be completed by Dec. 1.

Women of the church, at last night's meeting, voted a contribution of $2,100, in addition to $1,000 they have already given. Boy Scouts announced a $100 pledge.

$63,100 On Hand and Pledged
Pledges to date, McCulloch said, total $66,500. The committee obtained an additional $6,600 from the sale of Franklin st. property and from bequests, making a total of $63,100 on hand and pledged.

Briefly, the building program calls for the remodeling of the entire church plant, while the present parish building will be removed completely and a new structure erected.

Both the exterior and the interior of the main auditorium will be revamped and a new Colonial type tower built above the entrance. There will be a new entrance, new seats, new balcony stairs, new chancel and new pipe organ among other changes.

The new building, replacing the parish house, will be known as the educational building. In the basement will be located Boy Scout quarters, measuring 24 by 28 feet, and a new heating plant.

On the first floor there will be women's parlors, class rooms and a stage, opening into the social hall. The pastor's study, more class rooms and washrooms will be located on the second floor.

Off the social room will be located...

Mile Branch Grange Presents Program

Mile Branch grange members, guests at Perry grange meeting last night, were in charge of the first meeting in the "Traveling Chair" series of Columbiana county Pomona grange.

At the Branch officers presided during the session when Master Norman Barnett presented Perry grange master, George Hawkins, with the chair. In addition to 51 from Mile Branch and 34 from Perry, there were 23 members of other granges present.

The program during the lecture hour included: Two accordion solos, Miss Bernice Barnett; talk, "St. Patrick's Day," Mrs. Herman Fryfogel; guitar solo, Bruce Cobbs; stunts, Othar Kiehl; reading, Mrs. Clifford Israel; travel talk, Arthur Swindell.

Tableau, "Mother," Mrs. Mangus, assisted by the reader, Maynard Falloon, and pianist, Mrs. Norman Barnett.

Perry grange will continue the series of meetings by going to West Point grange on Friday, March 25. Those desiring transportation are asked to call Perry grange secretary, Mrs. George Hawkins, phone 1941-J-2.

The social committee served lunch after the meeting.

Myron Oana Fined; Appeal Is Planned

Myron Oana, operator of the Roosevelt Grill on S. Ellsworth ave., was found guilty at a trial in Mayor George Harroff's court Wednesday night on a charge of exposing liquor on a table after closing hours.

The defendant, who denied the charge at a preliminary hearing, was fined $100 and costs after his hearing last night.

He indicated, through his attorney, that he would appeal the case to Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones at Lisbon.

Oana is the second within a month to fall into the hands of police for alleged violation of the city's ordinance regulating the sale of beer and intoxicating liquors.

NOW IT'S COMING OUT

Something besides a political bandwagon pulled High Commissioner McNutt from the Philippines back to Washington in a great hurry.

Scarcely is the sawdust from his campaign circus cleaned up when Commissioner McNutt embraces a microphone to tell his countrymen and friends in the Philippines those remote islands must be kept safe for America forever.

This is contrary to Democratic party doctrine. It is contrary to Roosevelt administration policy. It is contrary to an act of congress. It is contrary to what Filipino leaders have been saying. It is contrary to what Mr. McNutt, himself, has said.

It must be assumed that Mr. McNutt, first, last and always a politician, knows what he is doing and why. He has consulted with President Roosevelt. His opinion that the Philippines must not be independent is backed up by Philippines President Quezon. For some reason or other strings are being pulled to cause a reversal of policy. Something has changed the situation.

Americans don't know what it is. They suspect, however, it has something to do with maintaining American prestige in Japan's sphere of influence. This is not a profound suspicion—no more so than suspecting the milk has been watered if fish are found in it. But it's realistic—as realistic as the problem of defending the Philippines, which is said to make admirals and generals toss in their sleep.

DICTATORSHIP ON PARADE

Since the rise of modern dictatorships there has been no clearer demonstration of what they are than the Austrian coup and its immediate aftermath of harsh discipline.

It is the first instance of dictatorship being imposed arbitrarily outside the borders of the country of its origin. Spain promises to be the second instance.

The Austrians' forced enthusiasm for their new masters has been noted with interest by Americans. When men must cheer for the winning side to save their necks, it is a shameful perversion of the human spirit.

Americans, secure in a 150 year old tradition of personal liberty hate dictatorship because it forces men to act a lie. That is their reaction to the Austrian coup. It is the source of their hatred of all authoritarian rule.

At the same time, it is plain how dictatorship gets a foothold—by taking advantage of the desperation of human beings whose affairs have been managed so badly they can't rally their forces to resist it when a crisis occurs.

"Nothing," writes Walter Lippmann, explaining why the Nazi coup was inevitable because of Austria's desperation, "can keep a nation free except the conviction of its people they would rather die than be slaves."

Austrians, many of whom must have harbored such a conviction, lacked the unity to make it effective.

WHERE GOOD GOVERNMENT BEGINS

John W. Bricker formally has announced his candidacy for another Republican nomination for governor, the reasonable outcome of his strong race against Martin L. Davey in 1936. Mr. Bricker proved then he was a contender who could have defeated Mr. Davey hands down if the latter had not been the beneficiary of the Roosevelt landslide.

Mr. Bricker's platform stands ready made for him. It is the platform that any man must use under the circumstances—improvement over the cost and methods of government under the Davey administration.

Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, candidate for the Democratic nomination, will use the same platform. There can be no other platform for the contest for governor in Ohio this year.

Incidentally, if Mr. Sawyer and Mr. Bricker were to win the Democratic and Republican nominations, assuring an election contest between them in the fall, Ohio would have cause to congratulate itself on its political luck. They would make an even match.

A. E. F. BAPTIZED BY SOMME FIRE TWO DECADES AGO

PARIS, March 21.—Twenty years ago the young American army went into battle for the first time to help stem the Germans' last drive in the north when Field Marshal Paul Von Hindenburg hurled all his reserves at the Somme front in an effort to break through to Amiens and separate the British and French armies.

The Hindenburg drive began with a mighty blow March 21, 1918, and the British army, its reserves virtually all used up after four years of fighting, was beaten back. Five days later, at the height of the battle a small force of American engineers who had been repairing roads and building bridges behind the British front were swept up with all the remaining reserves and thrown into the battle to stem the German advance.

Engineers In Van

These first Americans to fight were from the 6th U. S. Engineers, and the 12th and 14th Railway Engineers, with parts of the 17th, 22nd, 28th and 148th U. S. Aero Squadrons. Throwing down their shovels and other tools, grabbing up rifles, they went into battle and fought courageously. Under a British general, Carey, this poorly equipped force of mixed Americans, French, Canadians, Australians and English held back the Germans between Marcelcave and Hamel.

They prevented the German artillery from pushing on to a point where they could shell Amiens, a vital railroad center which kept the whole British army supplied with food and munitions. The battle turned on March 28. The German onslaught slowed down, for Hindenburg had taken terrific losses in his vain attempt to break through. The British were so weak they could not counter-attack, so finally the battle petered out April 6.

Then Came Belleau Woods

But the German army never again tried to break through in the north, and although Hindenburg again threw the rest of his army against the French at the Marne in the summer of 1918—another battle where the American troops helped their allies check a German drive, at Belleau Wood and Chateau Thierry—the German army had lost its punch, and from that time on the Allies took the offensive.

As one consequence of the Somme drive, the Allies realized the necessity of coordinating their efforts because daily the British and French grew weaker and used up their last reserves as the American army continued to grow until by late summer there were 2,000,000 doughboys in France. A few weeks later, the governments conferred there would be no necessity of choosing the lesser of two evils. It would be a more positive approach to the problem of good government than states ordinarily are privileged to make.

Good government begins with selection of good men in the primaries. With Mr. Bricker as the Republican candidate and Mr. Sawyer as the Democratic candidate, each party would be making its strongest bid for popular support.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, March 18

Opportunity for the attainment of cherished ambitions is read from the major planetary configurations. There is promise of contacting big business or promoting major plans with mergers, secret organizations, fraternal, political or diplomatic circles, all with increased prestige and personal satisfaction. Yet, a very disagreeable situation may arise, dragging an ulterior motive or some undercover machinations to the front.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of splendid opportunity for increasing the business and financial status, with important persons and organizations working in collaboration. Seek aid from rings, political or diplomatic circles or secret societies. A child born on this day may be efficient, proud and ambitious, but inclined to attain its ends by means of strategy, diplomacy or subtlety rather than by direct action. It may have a mentality of a deep, profound and introspective quality. It may rise to high positions in life through its individual efforts.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City.

"Hodgkin's disease" is an unusual but not uncommon ailment. I often receive inquiries about it. It is difficult to answer the questions because each case has its own peculiarities and requires its own treatment.

Dr. Copeland

The disease was first described by Thomas Hodgkin in 1832. Since then a vast amount of research and study has brought to light many important facts about this strange affliction.

Essentially it is a disease of the lymph glands of the body. It is more common in men than in women and afflicts children as well as adults. The diagnosis is rarely made until the lymph glands or lymph nodes become involved. These structures are found in different parts of the body. They are firm and freely movable under the skin. Unlike other glandular disorders, they do not become fixed to the surrounding tissue. In most instances the glands on one side only may be involved, but sooner or later the trouble appears on the opposite side.

May Be Overlooked

The onset of the disease is so gradual that it may be overlooked for a long time. The victim first notices an enlargement of the superficial lymph glands and complains of weakness and loss of weight. There is great paleness of the skin and progressive anemia. The glands may not be enlarged at first. In that event the sufferer complains only of some intestinal disturbance or dyspepsia.

Although a great deal of information concerning this disease has been accumulated, its exact cause is still unknown. There are various theories as to its origin but no definite one has been confirmed. The disease must never be confused with other disorders, such as tuberculosis, syphilis and certain forms of cancer, which may involve the lymph glands.

Hodgkin's disease is a disorder which requires careful and persistent medical supervision. Within recent years many of these cases have been successfully dealt with by the use of deep X-ray treatment. Of course, such treatment must never be started until a definite diagnosis of the disease has been made.

UNCLE ABNER SAYS:

Grange Lecturers To Go To School

COLUMBUS—National and State grange officers have been invited to join Ohio State university faculty members in conducting a short course for grange lecturers on the local campus March 21-25.

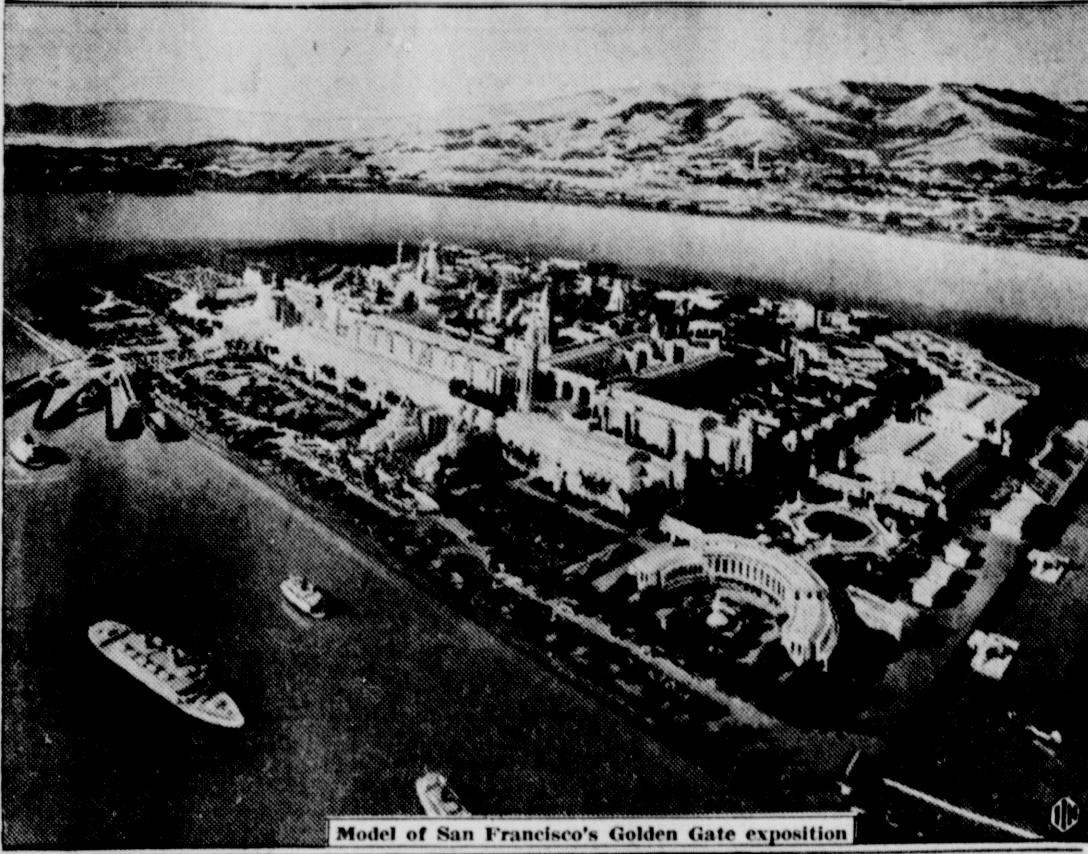

Subjects such as young peoples' programs, music, dramatics, grange ideals and program planning are to be presented under the direction of Joseph W. Fichter of Oxford, Ohio State grange lecturer, and R. Bruce Tom, Ohio State rural sociologist.

Speakers are to include James C. Farmer of Keene, N. H., National grange lecturer; L. J. Taber of Columbus, National grange master; Harry A. Caton of Coshocton, National grange secretary; Walter F. Kirk of Port Clinton, state master; John P. Cunningham, dean of the college of agriculture; H. C. Ramsower, director of agriculture extension; T. G. Watson, secretary of the college of agriculture, and J. P. Schmidt, supervisor of Farmers' institutes.

Signs of Spring

LONDON—This city's most infallible indication that spring is approaching is the arrival of "Doc" Edwards general agent for the Curl Greater Shows, which maintains winter quarters here. "Doc" arrived in town from Florida recently with reports that show business was on the up-grade, and that extensive arrangements had been made for the 1938 carnival season.

Thanks for the FINE ACCEPTANCE of KOHLERIZING

Even as this paper goes to press, the people of Salem have made us feel welcome.

Your many phone calls have told us something else too — that you appreciate the superiority of Kohlerizing. This exclusive Kohler double process not only clinically cleanses, but gives original life, body, feel and luster of new garments. By so doing, your garments need less frequent cleaning — and give months of extra wear. Kohlerize for economy.

Rouses Nazi Ire

Kurt von Ossietzky, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, which was awarded him while he was confined in a Nazi concentration camp, is pictured in court in Berlin-Moabit, where he testified against Dr. Kurt Wawnow, charged with embezzlement of 100,000 reichmarks, the amount of the Nobel prize.

DURHAM, N. C.—Duke university will open the third graduate school of forestry to be established in the United States next fall. Dr. Clarence P. Korstian, eminent forestry authority and co-author of two forestry texts, will be dean of the graduate school.

Is This the Reason You Are Constipated?

If you're wondering why your bowels don't work right—stop and think about what you eat. Bread, meat, eggs and potatoes. All good nourishing foods—but all concentrated, lacking in "bulk." And you need "bulk." Some food that forms a soft, spongy mass in the bowels—helps them move.

If it's this lack of "bulk" that's causing your constipation, Kellogg's All-Bran is just what you need. It soaks up water and softens like a sponge. And this soft mass helps your bowels move. In addition, All-Bran gives you Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B. Eat this crisp crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and enjoy happier days. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

COLUMBIANA

The Churchmen's Brotherhood of Grace Reformed church held the March meeting Wednesday evening in the church social rooms, with the program in charge of A. S. Ferrill, Richard Orr and Carl Keller. A lunch was served by Harry Miller, Ivan Reash, Wilson Harold, John Kurtz, Jr. and William Trotter, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McDonald and family left Wednesday by motor to spend some time with relatives in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The Senior Girl Reserves held a St. Patrick's day party last night at the school auditorium. Each member took a high school boy and there were 40 in attendance. Dancing, ping pong and cards were enjoyed after which a lunch was served with Marguerite Kamery as chairman of the committee. The hall was decorated with green and white.

Columbian Mothers club entertained their husbands at a dinner party at the Presbyterian church last night. The dinner was served by the L. L. class. Atty. C. C. Connell of Lisbon was the guest speaker. Mrs. Willard Vaughn presided. The meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. J. R. Stevens, March 28th.

The Wide Awake class of the Grace Reformed church will meet at the church Friday evening. Hostesses will be Mesdames Lower, Halverstadt and McDonald.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Oglevee have returned from Myersdale, Pa., where they were called due to the death of the grandfather of Mrs. Oglevee.

Mrs. Harry Yates was a caller in Youngstown, Wednesday.

The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met Wednesday afternoon at the church. Following the business meeting, Mrs. M. L. Forbes gave a review of several chapters of the study book, "Mecca and Beyond."

County Prisoners Will Face Camera
LISBON, March 17.—Prisoners at the county jail will be "mugged" as well as finger printed by the sheriff's office following the purchase of a camera by Deputy John Herman day turnkey.
The deputy expects to photograph men charged with more serious crimes for office records. The camera, similar to one used by the state highway patrol, also will be used in completing records of auto accidents.

SPECIAL SHOOT PLANNED HERE

Local Marksmen Will Observe Wildlife Week Sunday, March 27

give each entrant a "Ding" Darling created National Wildlife Restoration week poster stamp to identify himself as a participant in the observance.

Program Endorsed
The program of national wildlife week has received full endorsement of both the Amateur Trapshooting association and the National Skeet Shooting association. President Roosevelt has also given his aid to the observance by issuing an official proclamation creating National Wildlife Restoration week.

The wildlife week is being sponsored by the General Wildlife federation which is the outgrowth of the first North American wildlife conference held in Washington, D. C., at the call of President Roosevelt in February of 1936.
During the week varied activities are to be conducted throughout the country for the purpose not only of perpetuating the thought behind the restoration program, but also to provide sufficient funds to carry on the work.
A portion of the entry fee of each competitor in the various National Wildlife Restoration week shoots will be turned over to the General Wildlife federation for its work.

Bee Keepers Pick Former Officers

LISBON, March 17.—Bee keepers of Columbiana county re-elected A. C. Smith of East Liverpool as president at a meeting attended by 40 persons in the courthouse here yesterday.
Fred Parker of East Liverpool was re-elected vice president and H. T. Dawes, also of East Liverpool, secretary-treasurer. Smith was named county bee inspector.
During the meeting W. E. Dunham, bee specialist of Ohio State university, spoke on "Controlled Insect Pollination For Fruit Growers," and C. A. Reese, state apiarist, discussed "Spring Management."

SPANISH RAIDS TAKE 300 LIVES

Insurgent Planes Rain Death On Capital of Barcelona

(By Associated Press)
BARCELONA, March 17.—Nine insurgent air raids took well over 300 lives last night and today in this metropolitan capital. One bomb shattered windows in the United States embassy.
Hundreds were wounded in a series of bombardments which shook the city at intervals during 16 hours. Casualty lists were incomplete.
A bomb fell near the United States embassy in the ninth raid, which came at 1:50 p. m.—the third daylight assault. The building was jarred and windows were blown in. Hospitals were still too busy caring for the wounded to issue an official count of the dead but private sources estimated between 50 and 60 died in the ninth rain of bombs.
Deaths in the previous eight bombardments had been set at 284. Thousands of persons were on the streets when Generalissimo Francisco Franco's airmen struck for the ninth time.

RUMOR BARKLEY AS PROBE CHIEF

Congressional Insiders Select Kentuckian as Probable TVA Chairman

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Congressional insiders picked Senator Barkley (D-Ky) today as the probable chairman of a proposed senate-house committee to investigate the Tennessee Valley Authority.
Barkley, majority leader of the senate, was regarded as acceptable, they said, both to the administration and to the in-betweeners who want the TVA investigated.
Administration supporters contended that Republican opponents might seek to make political capital for the fall elections if they could conduct a summer-long investigation. Republicans argued that a committee of friends of the TVA would turn any investigation into "a whitewash."
Among the numerous proposals and counter-proposals for an inquiry, the latest was one calling for a joint committee of five senators and five representatives.

Joins in Tax Test

COLUMBUS, March 17.—Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy said today Ohio would join New York, New Jersey and Virginia in a U. S. supreme court test of the government's right to collect federal income taxes on salaries of officials and employees of the Port of New York authority.
A government victory would affect employees of the Ohio bridge commission which owns and operates toll bridges at Sandusky bay and across the Ohio river at Steubenville and Pomeroy.

would cause delay. The next grand jury convenes in May.

"Let it take its course," commented the governor.
Bradley withheld comment on the preliminary hearing decision other than to remark he "had only begun talking." He was released under $1,000 bond.

Governor Davey based his charge on Bradley's statement before the committee that he and the executive obtained through a General Motors Corp. representative a $25,000 contribution to the governor's 1934 campaign fund.

Judge Comments
In connection with his decision, Judge Griffin said:

"I think the point is well taken although not conclusive, that the likelihood of General Motors contributing $25,000 in March to a candidate's campaign, with the primary to be held in August, is slight at least. At least it is more probable they wouldn't do it than they would."

"I have no doubt at all that Bradley was trying to get some campaign contributions. I think probably he was urging on those utilities (companies Bradley named in committee testimony) the desirability of good relationships with the man who would be governor."

HULL ASSAILS WAR DOCTRINE

Insists America Will Continue Its Quest For Peace

disregard of law and of the basic principles of international order, and thus contribute to the inevitable spread of international anarchy throughout the world."

Secretary Hull said this government would continue to protect its citizens and interests abroad and would not withdraw in the face of violations of international rights.

The secretary came out strongly for an adequate armed force for this country.

"In a world in which the rule of force has not as yet been firmly and surely supplanted by the rule of law, it is the manifest duty of a great nation to maintain armed forces adequate for its national defense."

Failure To Arm Disastrous
"No policy would prove more disastrous than for an important nation to fail to arm adequately when international lawlessness is on the rampage."

In the far east crisis, Hull said, the United States has "consistently collaborated with other peace-seeking nations" but "there is not a trace of alliance or involvement of any sort."

He disclaimed "the slightest intention to entertain any such notion as the use of American armed forces for 'policing the world.'"

Finally, he drew a picture of his ideal world:

"We want to live in a world in which fruitful and constructive international relationships can serve as a medium for disseminating throughout the world the benefits of the material, spiritual and moral progress of mankind."

The border clash accentuated existing ill-feeling.)

Poland's demands of Lithuania in settling the dispute were said to include: 1. That Lithuania's constitution be shorn of its reference to Wilno as the capital; 2. That Lithuania live up to a League of Nations resolution urging both countries to negotiate toward "normalizing" their relations.

(Lithuanians fear Germany might take advantage of the present tenacious to gain return of Memel, a part of Lithuania which Germany regards as "unredeemed territory," lost in the World war.)

Considerable speculation here dealt with what Fuehrer Hitler might have to say about the future of Germans resident in Czechoslovakia — Germans whom Hitler already has pledged the nation to protect.

LISBON, March 17—Funeral service for Carl J. Kelm, 52, Madison township farmer who was suffocated when trapped in a cave-in on his farm Tuesday night, will be held at the Dawson funeral home in East Liverpool at 2 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in the Township Line cemetery.

Kelm is survived by his wife, Minnie, three sons, Carl of Columbiana and Herbert and Robert of Elkton; two daughters, Minnie and Ellen at home, and one brother, Paul, of East Liverpool.

DUFFY SEEKING "HOT-MIX" TRUTH

Will Make Every Effort to Get It, He Says, Regardless of Whom It Affected

COLUMBUS, March 17 — Atty Gen. Herbert S. Duffy, who is required by law to defend State Highway Director John J. Jaster, Jr., in a $10,000,000 taxpayer's suit against "hot-mix" road contractors, said today that he would "make every effort to determine the truth, regardless of who is affected."

Duffy, saying he expected the suit to come to an early trial, asserted he would drop his defense of Jaster "if it develops at the trial that there have been improper or illegal methods used in letting hot-mix contracts."

"I will take in open court a defense of the public interest and join with the plaintiff in asking the court to remedy and prevent any sacrifice of public funds by collusive bidding" in that event, Duffy said.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Agnes B. Dickinson against 24 members of the Hot Mixed Bituminous Industry of Ohio, Inc., Jasper, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson and Cliff W. Simpson, secretary of the association, to recover $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 in allegedly excessive payments made by the highway department to members of the association.

The suit alleges the association violated provisions of the anti-trust act and asks double damages of $4,000,000 to $10,000,000 under the Valentine act.

N. Cumberland Lad Killed At Chester

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 17. — One man was killed and four others were injured, one seriously, in a collision between two automobiles near Chester, W. Va., Wednesday night.

Harry Graham, 40, of New Cumberland, died in East Liverpool City hospital at 10 p. m. of internal injuries sustained in the crash. His wife is reported in serious condition at the hospital, while three others were treated for cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred when the car in which Mr. and Mrs. Graham were riding with Charles Barber, also of New Cumberland, blew a tire. This threw the machine into the path of a coupe driven by Angelo Kondras of New Cumberland.

The crash happened near the junction of Routes 30 and 2.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or easy passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

RUSSIA PLANS PEACE PARLEY

Germany, Japan and Italy Excepted in Litvinoff's Invitation to Conference

(By Associated Press)

MOSCOW, March 17—Foreign Minister Litvinoff today invited powers other than Germany, Japan and Italy to discuss joint action aimed at "checking further development of aggression and eliminating increased danger of a new world massacre."

He made the proposal in behalf of the Soviet government. The invitation will be sent to the United States as well as other nations because of the danger of war growing out of Germany's annexation of Austria and Polish-Lithuanian frontier conflicts.

Litvinoff said he was urging the invited powers, including the United States, to discuss joint action to save Czechoslovakia from attack by Germany and Lithuania from Polish aggression.

His formal statement did not mention specifically the calling of a conference, but he said exchanges he envisioned would be tantamount to a conference.

In one of his rare press conferences, the foreign minister indicated other powers would be sounded out on methods whereby collective action could be discussed when Soviet ambassadors had presented his first proposals to other governments.

Trial May Identify Dickey Triggerman

LISBON, March 17. — Will the identity of the trigger man in the holdup slaying of Clarence Dickey, East Liverpool milkman, be conclusively established next week?

Testimony of witnesses including Dudley Adams, serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for complicity in the crime, may clear up this point when Earl Rogers is tried here starting Monday on a first-degree murder charge.

Dickey was slain in a holdup Christmas day in 1935 by one of three bandits, Rogers, Adams and Clinton Daniels were charged with the crime. Daniels, never apprehended, may be involved as the actual killer by the testimony of his companions on the night of the shooting.

Since the law holds all three men equally guilty of murder the point will have little bearing on the outcome of the trial. But it is one in which those familiar with the case are keenly interested.

Plan Strip Mining In Rogers District

LISBON, March 17—Sixty acres of land in Middleton township near Rogers have been leased for strip mining operations by Russell Brothers of Youngstown from Mrs. Anna Galbreath.

Mining tests completed by the company prior to the lease revealed a high grade coal strata underlying the property. Terms of the lease stipulate that the land shall be restored to its original condition following the completion of mining operations.

Stripping will start as soon as the company is permitted to move its equipment over the highways approaching the property. A state law fixes a maximum weight for highway transportation applicable at this season of the year.

A peach and apple orchard bearing, 1,800 fruit trees will be sacrificed in the stripping.

ROSS KIDNAPER SLATED TO DIE

"It Turned Out Just As I Thought," Says Seadlund After Jury Returns Verdict

CHICAGO, March 17—"It turned out just as I thought it would," That was John Henry Seadlund's reaction today to a federal jury's decision that he should pay with his life for the $50,000 ransom kidnapping of Charles S. Ross, 72, Chicago businessman.

Seadlund confessed the crime from the witness stand. The jury was asked only to vote on a recommendation that Seadlund be punished by death. The verdict was reached last night.

Seadlund had pleaded guilty to kidnapping, but a jury verdict was a prerequisite to the death penalty. Unless the verdict is reversed at a new trial, the 27-year-old former Minnesota lumberjack will be electrocuted in the Cook County (Chicago) jail's electric chair. A motion for a new trial will be heard Saturday.

He and James Atwood Gray seized Ross Sept. 25, 1937, and fled to a hideout in the woods near Emily, Minn. Subsequently $50,000 ransom was paid vainly for his release.

The kidnaper testified a fight with Gray, in which Gray was killed, ruined his plans to return Ross unharmed after the ransom collection.

Shot to Death

TOLEDO, March 17.—Coroner W. M. Shapiro investigated today the death of Lee Sheldon, 73, found shot to death in his home in suburban Sylvania. A money box had been dug from his hiding place and left empty in the basement. Police said they believed Sheldon shot himself.

ed a new kitchen and serving accommodations. Windows, lighting effects, pulpit, all new, will mark the auditorium remodeling.

$150,000 Replacement Value In all, the building committee points out, for an investment of approximately $80,000, the congregation is getting a church plant with a replacement value of $150,000.

In addition to McCulloch, members of the building committee are George J. Bunn, L. Frank Smith, J. Clyde McKee and Rev. R. D. Walter.

From Henry Edward Tralle of New York City, the Presbyterian church's building consultant, the committee this week received a letter in which Tralle urged action on the building project.

Tralle said: "In going forward with your building project, your church will be doing its part to improve business and industrial conditions and to express the Christian faith in the future. This is no time for church leaders to get scared and to be influenced by the prevalent atheistic pessimism."

"With the prompt construction of what has been so carefully and wisely planned, your church will be enabled to enter upon a new phase of spiritual development and worthy accomplishment. Its leaders will thus prove themselves to be worthy successors of those who founded the church and of those who have served it so nobly through the years."

Theater Attractions

Annabella and William Powell, featured in "The Baroness and the Butler", at the State Friday and Saturday.

The Baroness and the Butler," featuring Annabella and William Powell, comes to the State theater Friday and Saturday. The gay, but dignified swish of peerage and its meeting face-to-face with a middle-European New Deal offers a theme for the story.

This film has caught the tone and flavor of an old regime—years of tradition and generations of escutcheon worship—suddenly confronted with a blue blooded dilemma in which the self-effacing butler emerges from his cocoon to assume social equality with his noble employers.

Elected To Parliament Powell, at his suave best, tries to save the Count's family from the blow of learning that he has been elected to Parliament on the Socialist-Progressive ticket. By his very actions he brings down charges of impoliteness, fraud and trickery on his head.

He incurs the wrath of every one but his Count—whose chief worry is that he will lose a good butler. The solving of this situation and the ensuing battle of wits with "Baroness" Annabella and a brilliant cast, gives movie fans a treat, long to be remembered.

The supporting cast of "The Baroness and the Butler" features Helen Wesley, Henry Stephenson, Joseph Schildkraut, J. Edward Bromberg, Nigel Bruce and Lynn Bari.

Double Feature Ends Patrons will see for the last time tonight at the State the double picture program: "The Invisible Menace" with Boris Karloff and "Thrill of a Lifetime," musical comedy.

The Grand features a new type of western, "Hawaiian Buckaro," with Smith Ballew and Evelyn Knapp Friday and Saturday.

Two pictures conclude tonight at the Grand: "No Time to Marry" with Richard Arlen and Mary Astor; and "Rolling Caravans" with John Loden and Eleanor Stewart.

More Than 25 Teams Expected to Enter Joe Kelley's Cage Tourney at Memorial

ANNUAL LITTLE CITY TOURNEY IS SCHEDULED

Cage Event To Be Held at Memorial Building Gym April 1 and 2

The fourth annual Little City basketball tournament for teams from cities of less than 10,000 population will be held Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2, at the Memorial building, Joe Kelley, manager, announced today.

Entries for the tournament, which is recognized as the only one of its kind in Ohio, are now being received by Kelley. The deadline for entries is midnight March 30.

Present indications are that more than 25 teams from north-eastern Ohio and possibly western Pennsylvania will compete. Each of the three previous tournaments attracted more than 26 entries.

Salem is expected to be represented in the tournament by at least three teams from the Class A City league which recently closed its 1937-38 season. Several local Class B teams are also considering entering the event if backing can be secured.

The tourney was inaugurated in 1933 to give small city teams which have little chance of winning in larger tournaments an opportunity to compete against other teams of their own calibre. No teams from cities over the population limit are permitted to enter.

Numerous college stars have competed in past tournaments. Dean Mealey, all-Ohio center from Muskingum, and Ernie Sullivan, Kent State star, were among the players last year. One of the outstanding players in 1936 was George Rupp, who is now at Miami university and was selected all-Ohio from that college this season.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, March 16.—Walter St. Denis, master publicist for Mike Jacobs, is in Chicago whooping up the Joe Louis-Harry Thomas brawl and I'll swear you can hear the guy from here. . . . Boston Bees have three sons off from major leagues in their roster—Gene Moore, whose dad once twirled for the Pirates; Carl Maggert, whose pater outfielded for the Athletics; and a kid named Delrake whose pop used to chase flies in the Detroit gardens along with Ty Cobb and Sam Crawford.

Tom Yawkey and his millions haven't bought a pennant for good old Beantown yet, but they've managed to assemble an all-star outfield in the Messrs. Ben Chapman, Roger Cramer and Jimmie Foxx. . . . These gents started for the American league in the 1935 All-Star game. . . . how about a guy named Jaworski of Rhode Island who rang up 441 points during the basketball season? . . . did any coltish cager better that mark? . . . Cliff Melton they used to call him Mickey Mouse; now is the freshest guy in the Giant camp.

Ernie Lombardi and Virgil Davis of the Reds are running a race to see who is the world's worst baserunner. . . . so far in their major league career each has swiped five sacks. . . . Davis took five years to get his and Lombardi seven. . . . by a strange quirk, each has a lifetime batting average of .315. . . . Rogers Hornsby, the greatest right-hand hitter the game ever knew, is shopping in the minors and may sign with Minneapolis. . . . here's a prediction: Joe Louis will kayo Harry Thomas, then kayo Max Schmeling, then fight Maxie Baer in the nearest approach to a $2.-500,000 gate since Dempsey and Tunney met in Chicago 11 years ago. You should see Rudy York, who's actually happy at being a catcher, slamming the ball over the fences at Lakeland. . . . Mickey Cochrane is grinning from here to Detroit. . . . Lefty Gomez is having his troubles, but he is as nimble-witted as ever.

Promising Crop Of Rookies Now Making Bid For Place In Majors

Baseball Managers Are Testing Yearlings, Hoping To Find Another Joe Di Maggio Among Candidates

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Is there another Joe Di Maggio in the house? Or, if not, is there a Lou Fette, a Bob Feller, a Jim Turner? Major league managers are asking that as they send their squads through calisthenics, batting practice and inter-squad games in the various southern and coastal training camps.

And all are looking for one thing—a prize rookie. It's the time of year for the makings, or perhaps breakings of the young ball player. If he makes the grade he may turn into another Di Maggio, rapidly taking Babe Ruth's place as a crowd pleaser, gate magnet and ball player with the Yanks. And then again, he may turn out to be a Fette or Turner, or Feller, the prize rookies of 1937.

Fette came to the Boston Bees from St. Paul of the American association. He had been in the big game since 1928. He turned in 20 wins against 10 defeats for the Bees last season. That was something for a rookie. Turner's case was even more surprising. He began his ball career in 1925 and at the age of 31 was attempting to break into the crowd of first-year men when the season begins to age near October. No less than 150 young and old rookies are attempting to make the grade right now. Very few will come through this year. Some have been up before and are trying again.

Included among the group are the new trend in Singin' Sam Baugh, the football passer de luxe from the campus of Texas Christian university and from the pro fields of the Washington Redskins.

Sam has been signed by the St. Louis Cardinals. In the American league, the most promising rookies at the moment appear to be Joe Gordon from Newark, Yank infielder; Spurgeon Chandler, recalled from Newark, Yank pitcher; George Dick-ey, from Minneapolis, with Boston Red Sox; Oscar Grimes, from New Orleans, with the Indians; Harry Eisenstat, from Louisville, with the Tigers; and Stan Sperry, from Oklahoma City, with the Athletics.

Turning to the National loop, the class seems to be among Johnny Riddle, from Columbus and Indianapolis, with Boston; Steve Mesner, from Los Angeles, with Chicago; Willard Herschberger, from Newark, with Cincinnati; Bill Lohrmann and Hy Vandenberg, both from Baltimore, and with the Giants; Johnny Rizzo, from Kansas City, and up with Pittsburgh; Enos Slaughter, from Columbus, who is with the Cardinals.

actual worrying. . . . Bill Terry has banned sliding pils as dangerous. . . . Tony Lazzeri is telling the Cubs that the Yanks are not successful because they hit so hard and often, but because they are one of the big happy families of baseball. . . . Put that one down to Joe McCarthy who has learned the secret of handling men.

STATE TOURNEY OPENS WITH 32 TEAMS ENTERED

High School Quints Bid For Championships In Class A-B

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, March 17.—Hamilton and Upper Arlington tossed their high school championships on the block today as 32 teams, including the defending titlists, launched the three-day state basketball tournament.

Firing on two fronts featured the first day's warfare, the 16 Class A quintets putting on their eight-game program at the state fairgrounds Coliseum, and the 16 Class B teams meeting at Ohio State university's gymnasium.

All Friday and Saturday games will be at the Coliseum as the "close and out" play cuts the contending contingent down to four teams for Saturday night's pair of title tilts.

Hamilton, Class A champion with a record of 18 victories and three defeats for the year, had Akron East, with an 11-8 record, as its first round opponent today, while Upper Arlington, unbeaten in 18 straight contests this year and 31 since it last tasted defeat, was paired against North Baltimore, which lost three of its 25 conflicts.

Games in each class were scheduled at 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8, and 9 p. m. today. The pairings: Class A: Findlay vs. Akron Buchtel, New Philadelphia vs. Xenia, Canton McKinley vs. Toledo Woodward, Akron East vs. Hamilton, Newark vs. Youngstown East, Mansfield vs. Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Akron St. Vincent vs. Marietta, and Bridgeport vs. Bowling Green.

Class B: Genoa vs. Enon, New Boston vs. Cadiz Radnor vs. Hartsville, Bettsville vs. North Baltimore, Wyoming, Willshire, Canfield and Shawnee, also were making their first appearance in the tournament. Four teams in Class A, Akron St. Vincent, Youngstown East, Xenia Central and Cincinnati Roger Bacon, also had their inaugurals today in state title play.

H. R. Townsend, state High school athletic commissioner, said he expected attendance at the event to break the record of 25,250 set a year ago, as practically every district and sectional tournament showed a marked increase over former years.

Temple Wallops Colorado To Win College Tourney

NEW YORK, March 17.—Temple's towering basketball Owls went back to Philadelphia today, carrying with them the championship trophy of the national collegiate invitation tournament and the expert opinion that they were just about as classy a court combination as could be found anywhere this season.

They walloped Whizzer White and company from Colorado, 90-36, last night to round out a season that saw them invincible against representative intersectional rivals and all-powerful in the eastern intercollegiate conference.

The temple lineup was big Mike Bloom and his lanky mates, Don Shields, Ed Boyle, Howard Black and Don Henderson. Shields with 16 points and Boyle and Black with 14 each were the big offensive guns.

Dick Metz Is Again Stopped By Injury

MIAMI, Fla., March 17.—Dapper Dick Metz, who teamed with Ky Laffoon to win the $4,000 international four-ball golf tournament, headed for a physician's office today and wondered whether the injuries that have plagued him for almost a year would abate.

Metz and Laffoon trounced Willie Goggin and Ben Hogan yesterday, 6 and 5, to collect $1,000 apiece.

Metz, who carried the load through the final 36-hole grind, played with a rib torn loose from its cartilage. He was hurt in an accident last spring.

Schmeling May Not Come Back to U. S.

CHICAGO, March 17.—Promoter Mike Jacobs said today "scrambled conditions in Germany" may prevent Max Schmeling from returning to the United States for his heavyweight title bout with Joe Louis scheduled for June. He intimated Max Baer would get the call if the German didn't show up.

Jacobs confined himself to possibilities and made no definite decisions, least of all on the site of the Schmeling-Louis fight for which Chicago is bidding.

Regulars Are Set To Take Over ABC

CHICAGO, March 17.—The booster bowler has his last big night in the American Bowling Congress tonight, and after that the regulars will take over for the final two-thirds of the 48-day contest at the Coliseum.

Thirty-seven squads of booster teams have taken to the 40 shining drives at the A. B. C. in the past two weeks and fired away for special prizes.

REDS' MANAGER FEELS HE HAS GREAT HURLER

McKechnie Praises Work Of New Discovery, John Doehring

By GAYLE TALBOT
TAMPA, Fla., March 17 — Bill McKechnie would just as soon not discuss the chances of his last place Cincinnati Reds, but he does believe he has made a sensational pitching find in John Doehring, 235-pound fullback of the Chicago professional Bears.

Bill, one of baseball's conservatives, is very high in praise of Doehring. Thinks he might accidentally have discovered a really great player, one of those naturals that come to a manager maybe once in his career, if he's lucky. The Reds could use a number of them.

It's a dizzy story, about Doehring, who is also a part-time wrestler. He's 25 now and he hasn't played any baseball since he was in his teens. That was in his home, Milwaukee. As he explained it to McKechnie, he struck out 12 in a row the last time he pitched, but it hurt his arm and he gave up the game. Since then he's been playing a lot of football for the Bears. A week ago he showed up at the

BOWLING RESULTS

Ohio Edison increased its lead in the Masonic Ladies bowling league at the temple alleys last night, winning two out of three games from Elks No. 1 while the second place Elks No. 2 lost two out of three to S. S. Kresge. Mullins Office won three games from the Electric Furnace in the other match.

In the Pastime league at the Grate alleys, Mullins Die Room successfully defended its first place position by taking three games from the Police Dept. In other matches, the Ohio Edison Electric Shop won three heats from Loudon's V-8's and the Citizen's Ice & Coal took two out of three from the Stillicious Chocolates.

A special match at the Grate alleys saw the Fernengel Colts defeat Harris Garage, 2183 to 2032.

JOHNNY KRONER TO GET SECOND BASE POSITION

Brilliant Play Assures Him of Indians' Keystone Sack Job

NEW ORLEANS, March 17. — Pre-training season discussion said the toughest fight in the Cleveland Indians' camp would be for second base, but the tussle hasn't materialized, because Johnny Kroner won't let it.

Johnny has been so brilliant at the Keystone sack every day that he has the job sewed up. Lyn Lary and Bruce Campbell are the camp's hitting heroes to date.

CLEARWATER, Fla. — Manager Darrin Grimes is taking out some "right-field insurance." Faced with the possibility that "Rightfielder" Heimie Manush is planning an extended hold-out, "Boiling Boity" is shifting Long Tom Winsett from left to fill the bill. Winsett has been the club's leading slugger in training camp.

TAMPA, Fla. — Will McKechnie is feeling a little better these days about his Cincinnati Red's prospects.

His change of heart was caused largely by the neat work of outfielders Dusty Cooke and Lee Gamble. First baseman Frank McCormick and infielder Linus Frey, all newcomers to the Redleg roster.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Although all hands admitted it wasn't a unanimous decision, Mickey Owen was still hollering in the St. Louis Cardinals' camp today that he came off on top in his fist-tossing party with Mel Almada in yesterday's exhibition game with the Senators. In fact, with the Cards taking a 15-13 beating, Mickey was the only Card winner.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas — A wire to Vice President William DeWitt advised the St. Louis Browns that their clouting third-sacker, Harold Clift was on the way to the camp and "rarin' to go." Clift came to terms last night, and was in camp in nine runs and is hitting a neat .593 in six exhibition games.

"EXTRA FARE" by Edna Robb Webster

SYNOPSIS

Jaxie Cameron, lovely young newspaper columnist, travels west aboard the Big Chief, extra-fare train, in search of copy for "The Friendly Corner," column in the Chicago Star-Tribune. Tommy Ackerman, staff photographer, sees her off, taking a flashlight picture as Jaxie waves farewell from the observation platform. Inside car 74X, Mose, the porter, is installing those who, for three dramatic days, are to be companions in the swift rush to the coast. Among the passengers, Jaxie identifies a bride and groom, and notices a beautiful girl who is probably on her way to Hollywood. Carrie Dade, a tired-looking mother with two small children, instantly awakens Jaxie's sympathy. After the train leaves, the young columnist returns to the observation platform. On a sharp curve she almost loses her balance as she stands near the rail, but a tall, gray-eyed man grasps her arm as she sways precariously.

CHAPTER III

The stranger's eyes smiled friendly apology as he held Jaxie's arm firmly for a moment.

"I think you had better not stand at the railing," he said. "It is more dangerous there now, even, than when we got going faster out on the open road."

"But I might miss something," laughed Jaxie, and added, "Thank you for saving my balance."

"You might miss something, all right, but it might be better if you did. At any rate, I'll stand here ready to save you if you must be so audacious. Your first trip west?" His tone was not so curious as it was interested.

"Oh, yes," Jaxie's enthusiasm bubbled. "And I can't wait to see everything. That's why I'm on the Big Chief—so I can get there as fast as possible."

"You must have a very good reason for wanting to get there so fast," he suggested.

"I have. So I can see all there is to see and hurry back again," she parried roughly.

"Their amusement mingled pleasantly. 'That certainly is a very good reason for hurrying away,' he agreed."

"Doesn't it make you feel queer," she changed the subject, suddenly, with her eyes intent on the retreating distance, "slipping out of the city and leaving it behind like this? All the lights and silhouettes seem to be drawing back and falling away into space. Is it they that are moving instead of us?"

"You put it into words very well. I'm one of those unfortunate people who feel things but can't express them."

"Be glad that you don't have to. It is one thing to feel an experience in your own thoughts and quite another to express it in words that will convey the same impression to others. But that happens to be what I have to do."

"A writer?"

"Yes—columnist. That's the worst line in the game. Searching out little precious bits of life and serving them up in appetizing words for the hungry public that is too busy living to find life for itself. I can see that you do it very well—and like it," he observed with admiration.

"Of course. I adore it. But like most humans. I bite the hand that feeds me—make caustic remarks about the work I live by."

"Well, I've been devoting most of my caustic remarks to railroads in general and upper berth in particular. Can you imagine my climbing a ladder and folding myself into an upper?" His grin denied the force of his resentment.

"Then you must be in a hurry to get to the coast, yourself, if you prefer that discomfort to waiting for the next train," she suggested.

"It happens that I had no choice in the matter," he answered enigmatically. Then, remarked, as he glanced about and noted that most of the passengers had gone inside, "We may as well take these vacant chairs and be comfortable."

"Cameron," supplied Jaxie. "In car 74X, next to this one."

"Why—So am I. That's fine. I'm delighted to meet you and hope we see a lot of each other in the next couple of days."

"We shall, probably. Neither of us can escape from the train since we are both in such a hurry to get to the coast," she reminded him.

"At least, we have that much in common, and perhaps we shall discover some other mutual interests." Again his eyes caught and held hers.

They were leaving the suburbs of the city behind now. Trees and gaping open spaces flashed by them and melted into the distance, but Jaxie's interest in the landscape had waned for the time. Perhaps, she was thinking, her public would enjoy this bit of life and experience more than her impressions of the city fading into the night.

Mose was having his difficulties with the irascible old lady in lower 6, whose section Kirby Elliot shared. Mose had catalogued her instantly when she came aboard, one of the first arrivals. She had complained of the oppressive heat and closeness in the car.

"'Tis right close in heah now, ma'am," he conceded. "But hit'll be bettah when we-all gets goin'."

"And when will that be," she snapped.

"Well, it's purty early yet, ma'am. Hit'll be 'bout forty-five minutes foh we-all pulls out."

"What? Forty-five minutes? Do you mean to say I'll have to sit in this stifling car for almost an hour?" She seemed to accuse Mose of delay with intent to exasperate, as if he were accountable for train schedules and their synchronization with the arrivals of all passengers.

"Ah, he feared you-all will, ma'am. Mose shrugged aside all further responsibility in the matter.

"Well, open that other window and turn on the fans in this car," her words rapped a staccato command. "And bring me a pillow. Be sure it has a clean cover."

"Yes, ma'am. De fans is goin' already, but ah'll do everything else

LONDON—The London Council Education committee will spend nearly $26,000,000 during the next three years to make school-life healthier and more attractive to the city's children. The scheme includes a plan to encircle London by a green belt of classroom playing fields.

"It happens that I had no choice in the matter," he answered enigmatically. Then, remarked, as he glanced about and noted that most of the passengers had gone inside, "We may as well take these vacant chairs and be comfortable."

amining his whereabouts with bewilderment.

"Yes, suh! Kin ah help yoh, suh?" suggested Mose, reaching for a worn straw suitcase which appeared to be the man's only piece of baggage.

Its owner, however, had no intention of permitting other hands than his to handle his property. "Never you mind about my suitcase. I kin take keer of that. Jist you show me where I belong on this confounded train, and I'll be much obliged. I'm in the right car, ain't I?"

Mose glanced at the proffered ticket and turned with alacrity. "Yes, suh, you is in de right cah, all right. Dis way, suh, in numbah foah."

The old man's faded blue eyes, accustomed to the far horizons of the mid-west prairies, inspected with apprehension the cramped quarters assigned to him.

"But I thought—" he hesitated, and continued hurriedly at the porter's look of polite inquiry. "I thought there was to be a bed for the extra money. I could jist as well set up all the way—I done it more'n onct—but they insisted at the ticket office that I ought to have a bed."

"An' 'at's jes what you-all have got—" Mose was patient. He recognized an uninitiated traveler when he saw one, and exerted himself in his behalf. Wasn't it his duty to the railroad company to please new patrons so they would want to travel more? Mose exercised his
